As you begin the school year, you will have the opportunity to read a number of books for assignments. When you have a choice, you may wish to choose a title from the list above.

I would recommend starting with books in the “JUNIOR ENLISTED” or “LEADING PETTY OFFICER category.

The Navy Professional Reading Program was developed to encourage a life-long habit of reading and learning among all Sailors. The books included in these collections can provide readers with a deeper understanding and appreciation for naval heritage, the profession of arms, and the complex world in which we operate. The recommended readings have been categorized by experience level as well as the nature of the subject matter.

For more information, visit www.navyreading.navy.mil where there is a detailed description of each book.

The United States Marine Corps maintains a professional reading list as well, which can be accessed at the following:
